Notes:
Leaders, please make arrangements to get the book for your class session early enough for you to read it before class. Another consideration is that some of these books are rather long for little ones to sit and for the class. Thus reading ahead will give you an opportunity to decide how to fit this story into your class time, perhaps cutting a few pages or breaking up the story with some activity in the middle. Make preparations for 7 students. This LG Lit time is designed to have a cozy, story-time feel with activities to gently interact with the content of the story and also basic story elements. Leaders, please use this time to read the story in a way that is comfortable for all, then plan activities that help students interact with the story elements (see SAP for that book) and to enjoy the story. A blanket or quilt can be an effective way to contain these littles OR sitting in chairs in a circle works well, too. These activities can be a combination of group or individual projects and may also be both table activities and/or something active. Elements from the story (objects or food, etc.) can be used to help bring the story to life for these students.
