

Assignment for Co-op 4

Static Character: a character who does not undergo a change over the course of a story

Dynamic Character: a character who changes over the course of the story

In class we learned about static characters and dynamic characters within a story. As you read Anne of Green Gables, follow the format for SAP Week 6 (attached) to record some of the ways that Anne changes as the story progresses. Returning dialectic students, or those who struggle with neat writing, are encouraged to use a separate sheet of paper to allow space for neat, thorough answers.
